About Nova Scotia Business Hall of Fame

The inaugural Business Hall of Fame was held in 1993 to recognise the contribution made to business by successful leaders and entrepreneurs. The Business Hall of Fame has become an institution of unmatched significance to the business community of Nova Scotia.

This year marks the 30th Anniversary of the Nova Scotia Business Hall of Fame. The traditional symbol of 30 years is the pearl, known as the gem of the sea. A fitting tribute to our laureates, pearls represent wealth, honesty, and wisdom. The Business Hall of Fame provides a unique opportunity to discover pearls of wisdom from our laureates that we know will inspire our community and the leaders of tomorrow.

All Laureates have their portrait, painted by local artist, James Middleton, hung in the Gallery housed at the Faculty of Management in the Kenneth C Rowe Management Building at Dalhousie University. A digital portrait gallery also exists in the Halifax Convention Centre and you can view information on any of our Laureates by visiting our website at www.nslaureates.ca.
